JURY FINDS WILLIAM POTTER GUIL-TY OF MANSLAUGHTER.

Judge Alford's Instructions in the Case-Other News of the Local Courts.

The evil of carrying concealed weapons was shown by the verdict of guilty returned by the jury in the Criminal Court yesterday afternoon in the case of William Potter, who was convicted of manslaughter for the killing of Herva Garnett last April.

The evidence as brought out in the case showed that the defendant was in the habit of carrying a revolver and had been warned that it was a dangerous thing to have in one's possession. Potter and Garnett, both negroes, were tossing a ball on Rhode Island street, near Blake, when they became involved in a scuffle that resulted in the discharge of the revolver in Potter's pocket. The bullet caused the death of Garnett.

It was claimed by the defense that Potter was carrying the weapon from his home to the house of his grandmother and that he was therefore a traveler and entitled to the possession of the pistol. In construing the concealed weapon section of the Indiana statutes Judge Alford said: "The word traveler is used in a limited sense and was intended to designate a person traveling at least such a distance as takes him among strangers with whose habits, conduct and character he has no acquaintance and where unknown danger may exist, from which there may be a necessity to protect himself by preparing for defense against an attack. Or to come within the exemption of this section of the statute, the traveler must be among strangers with whose habits, conduct and character he is not acquainted."

The State's attorney admitted that it was a hard case as no criminal intent could be shown, but the fact that the defendant was carrying a revolver in violation of the statute must have weighed with the jury, which was only out a little over an hour | fer herself to him in marriage in order to when it had agreed on a verdict

Administrator of Raridan's Estate Sues Street-Car Company.

The Union Trust Company, as administrator of the estate of Bedford M. Raridan, who was killed September 6, 1902, at Blaine | FIGURES SHOW GREAT INCREASE IN avenue and Morris street, filed a suit against the Indianapolis Street-railway Company yesterday in the Superior Court, asking for $10,000 damages. The complaint says that Raridan was attempting to cross the tracks one night about 10 clock, that the crossing was not lighted and the car was being run at a reckless and dangerous rate of speed. The deceased saw the motorman turn off the current and apply the brakes, as if to slacken the speed of the car, and started to cross the track when he was struck by the car and killed.

Their Real Names Appear.

When the men who were indicted by the grand jury were arraigned before Judge Alford in the Criminal Court yesterday, Richard Otto and Nick Willick, charged with holding up and robbing William Denny, did not answer when they were called on to stand up and plead.

The two men gave the fictitious names of Mullen and Richards when arrested and when Deputy Prosecutor Benedict directed Turnkey Kimball to go over to the jail and get the men a diligent search of the jail did not reveal them and the turnkey returned with the information no one could be found by the name of Otto and Willick. One of the prisoners then told the prosecutor that the men had given assumed names and the turnkey went back to the jail and called for Mullen and Richards and the men were brought over and arraigned under their real names. Both pleaded not guilty, and were returned to jail to await trial.

A demurrer to the bill of complaint filed by De Witt Dillsworth against the Indiana Railway Company was argued yesterday before Judge Anderson by William L. Taylor. Dillsworth owns 1,833 shares in the railroad company, and filed the bill in an effort to have the company enjoined from assessing its 20,000 fifty-dollar shares. The bill claims that the assessment is not legal

COAL AND ICE COMPANY

SOUTH SIDE ENTERPRISE EVOLVES A CO-OPERATIVE CONCERN.

Four Acres of Ground Purchased Along the J., M. & I. Tracks-

Present Price of Ice.

The Co-operative Coal and Ice Company, a South Side enterprise, has purchased nearly four acres of ground just north of the Belt rallway, between East street and the J., M. & I. tracks, extending to Beecher street. An icemaking plant and coal sheds will be erected at once. The land was owned by the Nordyke & Marmon Company and its purchase secures for the Co-operative Company a switch from the J., M. & I. tracks.

Contracts already have been made for coal and it is the purpose to begin supplying shareholders with fuel and ice with as little delay as possible. Members of the company will, by co-operation, save 10 to 20 per cent. in cost of coal and ice and also hope to receive dividends on the money in-

STATE TAX COMMISSIONERS.

Union Traction Company Simply Asks that No Increase Be Made-Claims of Other Companies.

Representatives of eleven interurban, electric and street railways, with a capital in the aggregate of many millions of dollars, were heard by the State Board of Tax Commissioners yesterday. Some of the companies, including the Union Traction Company, are only asking that the board make no increase over their assessments of last year. Other companies want reductions in their assessments from last year's figures, and new companies, that are placed on the tax duplicate this year for the first time, are before the board to have their assessment placed "as low as possible."

The companies whose representatives were heard yesterday were the Fort Wayne Traction Company, represented by Senator Stephen B. Fleming; the Union Traction Company, represented by J. A. Van Osdel and W. P. C. Sampson, with which were presented the claims of the Marion Transit Company and the Indianapolis Northern Traction Company, the three companies being under one management; the Indianapolis & Martinsville Rapid Transit Company, represented by Charles Finley Smith, of Henry Russe, this city; the Indianapolis & Eastern Electric Railway Company, represented by Frank M. The Union Traction Company asks that there be no increase in its assessment over last year's figures. In 1902 the company was assessed for 130.4 miles of track at $13,000 a mile. Its total assessment, including rolling stock and all second main and side tracks, was $2,097,730. The Indianapolis Northern Company has eleven miles more main track than it had last year. The Marion Transit Company was assessed $6,000 a mile on 5.81 miles last year. Its total assessment amounted to $38,765. The company claims that there should be no increase this
